

ASTRONAUTA E SEUS AMIGOS

PRESS KIT

Astronauta e Seus Amigos, which in English would be translated to Astronaut and His Friends, is a dream pop band based in the brazilian futuristic capital of Brasilia.

The band started in late 2013, without the aim of actually being a band. While on a student exchange in the british city of Manchester, the brazilian musicians Pedro Rodolpho and Lucas Pitangueira ended up living in the same house. More than sharing the same musical taste, they also shared the disposition to create atmospherical and contemplative music.

Over the following year, they started working on Wanderlust - their debut EP, released last March - on weekly meetings at Lucas' - an Acoustic Engineering Student - home studio. Gradually, they counted with musician friends that also happened to live with them to record some other instruments on Wanderlust. After they returned to Brazil, they carried on exchanging recording files while Lucas mixed the work.

Some of their main influences are Sigur Ros, Beach House, Tame Impala, Asgeir and Low Roar.
